Notes From The Chair:

This is my final update as Chair of ABPS as I am standing down in June. Subject to approval by the AGM, I will be replaced by Dr Gwynne Harries, currently Vice-Chairman. I am very grateful to him and the rest of the Executive Committee for all their hard work, help and ongoing support to keep all aspects of UK philately going.

As you read this, we will, no doubt, be reflecting on the outcome of EuroPhilEx. I am expecting this to be a great success attracting a wider audience because of its accessible location at the NEC in Birmingham.

There have long been calls to move events outside London. This one has attracted more dealers than Stampex (with twelve booths taken by participants from overseas) and with 2000 frames of exhibits there will have been much to entertain and inspire visitors. Organising such a huge event, with volunteers, is an enormous challenge and even getting to the start line is a great achievement. My thanks to the Organising Committee, led by Jon Aitchison, for their superb effort. I hope it has been rewarded by lots of visitors to the show. Jon will receive the Congress Medal in recognition of his many contributions to philately over the years during the event. This is well deserved.

My personal challenge over the last twelve months has been to get more people involved in organised philately through a network of ABPS Regional Representatives. Although this started slowly, good progress is now being made but we need many more people yet to come forward to help. Please email me at chair@abps.org.uk if you can help personally and we can let you know much more about this new role.

Once again, my thanks and best wishes for the future of ABPS and UK philately.

John Davies RDP FRPSL

I doubt that anyone can really be more involved in national philately than John has been since I first joined the ranks of ABPS over 10 years ago. He was then organising much connected with Youth philately at Stampex and many other places. He also got more people involved so that ultimately he was able to pass on that role in order to take up more in ABPS - Public Relations, Vice Chair and then Chair. At the same time he has been heavily involved with the Great Britain Philatelic Society. The Royal and local societies - in fact I don't know all the societies of which he is a member. He has produced major prize-winning exhibits and written about them - and taken displays to many societies all over the country. Thank you John for everything, including friendship. Editor

Editorial

This editorial might seem a bit different - mainly because it is. When you read this I will have finished being busily involved at EuroPhilEx in Birmingham. If London 2022 is anything to go by I will have a good time - and my bank balance will be smaller - less money to worry about.

After the last issue I had a number of correspondents about the membership ideas from David Smith, asking for the 100 ideas that he had developed. They are so good that our Chair asked for them to be put on the website so that anyone can see them and perhaps start their own progress, based on those ideas, or others that they have developed. It is always gratifying to get a response - even a negative one can be interesting, even if I disagree. I have also had the opportunity to visit societies or groups that I have never visited before, for example a long trip to Surrey, visiting Guildford and a meeting at the home of the secretary and live wire of the West Indies Study Group (see the cake eaten at Guildford - not all by me - and pages 29 and 38). It was good to feel so welcome - and the journey was pleasant too. I haven't finished my wanderings as so far I have agreed to visit three more societies at least, as well as the York Fair and a society weekend. The social side of our hobby suits me - watch out, you never know where I might get to.

Sadly I still hear of societies which are in danger of closing because no one will volunteer to take part of the organising over and do something to relieve the burden on a few people who have been working hard at it for years. Come on folk - give it a go, take over a small or big part.

Another sadness is when societies decide that they no longer want to be affiliated. Is this a failing on our part in making it clear what the Association is about? It is not just for those who like taking part in competitions - I don't for one. I know that sometimes it is the rising costs of room hire and falling numbers of members that trigger the decision to withdraw. But dare I ask, when was the last time that they increased their annual subscription? I know that many societies are still charging the equivalent of between three and five cups of coffee for a year's membership, but the members will pay more than that for a single item at a Fair and even more in an Auction. Don't forget that if there is a short-term problem that requires some help, the Small Grants Scheme from ABPS might well give you sufficient time to make adjustments or new arrangements so that the society can carry on and stay as part of the British philatelic community. We are willing to help, by telling you what we are about and if necessary by considering requests for financial aid. Next time - me at EuroPhilEx. Keith Burton

Society anniversaries

According to the date of foundation shown in the societies' information on our records, significant anniversaries include those shown below (though several societies have not let us know their foundation date, so there may be more).

Channel Islands Specialists' Society – 75 years

CISS members with RPSL President, Simon Richards

Nineteen displays by our members filled 54 frames at the Royal Philatelic Society London on 9th January, marking the start of our 75th anniversary year. Exhibits ranged through Early Forwarding Agents, Ship Letter Mail, Sub-Post Offices, Smaller Channel Islands, The German Occupation, Third Anniversary of Channel Islands Liberation, Postal Independence and four frames of postcards. An exhibition booklet accompanied the display.

Steve Wells

Heartiest congratulations to all involved:

If you think we've missed you out, please let the Editor know.

Your society information?

Please let the ABPS Secretary know of any changes to the details, including the information on the ABPS website about your society. Contact details are on p 62. Please tell your Federation Secretary too.

Also if you want changes in times, venue, website or email addresses and telephone numbers of your secretary to appear in the Amendments List, send them to the Editor - details also on p 62.

Obituaries

Dave & Moira Edwards

It is with great sadness that the Channel Islands Specialists' Society (C.I.S.S.) advises that its former Membership Secretary, Moira Edwards, and former Chairman, Dave Edwards, died within a week of each other in November 2024. David and Moira joined the C.I.S.S. in 1995. A quiet couple, their main interest was Channel Island postcards. They formed a superb collection including almost complete runs of the Allix and LL cards.

David was born on the UK mainland. His parents had been evacuated from Guernsey in 1940. Following the liberation the family returned to Guernsey where he was educated. David met Moira whilst at Cardiff University, where they both studied teaching. Following their graduation, David became a teacher and they took up a two-year posting to the Gilbert Islands (now known as Kiribati). On their return to England, they settled in Sandon, Essex and David took up positions in various schools teaching science.

They entered the C.I.S.S. annual Postcard Competition and between them won 13 of the 16 competitions held between 2002 and 2017.

In September 2002 they took over running the circulating packet service which they efficiently operated until 2007 when Moira then took on the Membership Secretary's role, which she held until 2017. In 2009 David took on the role of Chairman of the society, which he managed until 2017.

Moira passed away on the 23rd of November 2024 and David six days later on 29th November 2024. Their funeral took place on 15th January 2025 at Chelmsford Crematorium. It was well attended including six members of the C.I.S.S. present.

Congress Medal 2025

The Association of British Philatelic Societies is delighted to announce that this year's recipient of the prestigious Congress Medal is Jon Aitchison, FRPSL.

Jon is the Chairman and principal organiser of EuroPhilEx Birmingham 2025 International Exhibition. He gained experience of organising an International Exhibition as he was on the Organising Committee of EuroPhilEx London 2015.

In fact, Jon's work for International Exhibitions has resulted in his being the UK Commissioner at numerous exhibitions in different countries since 2015, often involving more than one a year. In addition, he is in charge of international commissioner appointments.

Being involved, at a high level, in conjunction with philatelic exhibitions and congresses has been one of Jon Aitchison's main contributions to organised philately. He has organised displays by members of the Royal Philatelic Society London at various events as a Council member of that Society. He has also been active for ABPS on the Exhibitions and International Committee. One of his main contributions being his drive to get various new classes adopted at national exhibitions as British national classes. Since 2016 Jon has been Keeper of the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists and all that position entails.

Jon Aitchison has served on the committees of several specialist societies holding positions of President, Vice Chairman, Librarian or Auctioneer. His collecting interest are various, of which the Channel Islands is his principal interest. In the late 1980s to early 1990s he was Advisor to the Landmark Trust and Lundy Island on philatelic matters and stamp issues. He has authored and published ten books on various subjects in connection with the Channel Islands as well as being a prolific contributor of articles for philatelic publications.

Looking at Jon's Philatelic Curriculum Vitae, he has been heavily involved in voluntary service for British philately since 2016. Considering his own admission that being principal organiser for EuroPhilEx has required two and a half year fulltime work it would have been understandable if he had stepped down from his demanding other philatelic positions. Not Jon, he has continued in the positions of Keeper of the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists and his work on the ABPS Exhibitions and International Committee.

In June this year he will be off to Liberec, Czech Republic, as Commissioner for a European Stamp Exhibition.

Jon Aitchison was nominated by the Channel Islands Specialist Society and the Egypt Study Circle, Egyptian philately being another of his specialised collections. He has contributed to the Egypt Study Circle as President and meetings secretary for over six years.

Jon' Aitchison's outstanding voluntary service to British philately at national and international level makes him a worthy recipient of the Congress Medal for 2025.

Roll of Distinguished Philatelists

New Signatories for 2025

At the meeting of the Board of Election of the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists on 6th February 2025, it was unanimously agreed that the following philatelists be invited to be the new signatories to the Roll:

Adriano Bergamini, RDP, Switzerland

Birthe King, RDP, United Kingdom

Eddie Leibu, RDP, Israel

Simon Richards, RDP, United Kingdom

The new signatories join 94 other current living RDPs from 30 countries, spread over six continents. More details on the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists can be found at: <https://www.abps.org.uk/roll-of-distinguished-philatelists/>

Birthe King, RDP, United Kingdom.

The name of Birthe King has become synonymous with the growth of Open Philately as an approach to collecting and exhibiting. Her promotional work has been seen across many countries and continents and her exhibits have gained high awards in competition. She has been a member and secretary of the FIP working group set up following the FIP Congress in Portugal in 2010 to examine the new class of Open Philately. The new Open Philately Guidelines were agreed at the FIP Congress in Indonesia in 2012. The Class has been particularly popular in Europe, with more than 30 exhibits in competition at the London 2022 FIP international exhibition. As hoped, it has attracted numbers of new exhibitors who had previously not been involved in exhibiting.

As a Director of FEPA during the period 2013-2019, Birthe promoted the FEPA Regulations for Picture Postcards, combining the rules of several of the federations and consulting with prominent exhibitors of picture postcards. These regulations were agreed at the FEPA Congress in Athens in 2015 and Picture Postcards were adopted as an FIP experimental class at their Congress in 2018.

Birthe has developed and exhibited her own Open Class exhibits, which have gained high awards at exhibitions. Among them, Denmark: Conscience, Conflict and Camps 1932-1949 received large gold medals at Melbourne 2013 and London 2015 international exhibitions. This collection has also been featured as an Edition d'Or, published by Heinrich Köhler. The exhibit The Re-Unification of Southern Jutland with Denmark 1864-1920 was awarded a gold medal at the Prague 2019 international.

Active in the promotion of Open Philately, articles by Birthe have been published in magazines in Europe, America and Asia promoting and explaining the concept as a collecting approach and its exhibiting. Birthe has delivered numerous PowerPoint presentations at local, national and international level and participated in discussion groups and seminars. She has also participated in several interviews for magazines and radio.

Apart from her international appointments with FEPA and FIP, Birthe has been a Council Member of the Royal Philatelic Society London from 2012-2019 and chairman of the Membership & Representatives Committee during that time.

Simon Richards, RDP, United Kingdom.

As a collector of a wide range of subjects, Simon Richards has been very active in philatelic collecting and exhibiting. He is chairman of the ABPS Exhibitions and International Committee and a director of Stamp World Exhibitions, in which roles he is much involved in the various UK and international exhibitions. He represented the UK at the FEPA Congress in Copenhagen in 2024.

He is a qualified FIP Juror and participated in the Jury at London 2022, Westpex 2024, San Francisco and Hafnia 2024, Copenhagen. Over the last year he has been acting-

President of the Royal Philatelic Society London during the illness of the President and was elected President upon the recent death of Mike Roberts. He is also a member of the Royal Expert Committee.

One of Simon's core collecting interests has been the stamps of the West Indies, and he continues as President of the West Indies Philatelic Study Group and runs the society's auction. He chaired the first meeting of the combined UK and USA societies of this collecting area at the Great American Stamp Show, in Hartford in 2024. He has been treasurer of the National Philatelic Society since 2001 and of the Stuart Rossiter Trust since 2015.

Among Simon's collections and exhibits, his British West Indies Maritime Mail was a candidate for the Grand Prix at Hunphilex, 2022 and won large gold at Stockholmia 2019 and IBRA, Essen, 2023. High awards have also been achieved for The Postal History of Savoy, The Postal Stationery of Grenada and Classic Victoria (Australia). These collections formed major displays to various societies, including to the Society of Postal Historians. His display of Dominica won the Tilleard Medal for the best 1:00pm display to the RPSL.

Simon has been the author of numerous articles on a wide range of subjects. Recently published is a much expanded and researched book entitled Dominica: Philately to 1967. This covers both the stamps and postal history and includes considerable original research from the National Archives at The British Library and Postal Museum that was not covered in previous volumes on the subject.

Rossiter Trust Seminar

Instead of an annual lecture, this year the Stuart Rossiter Trust is hosting a Seminar on "What is Postal History?". An all-day event, it will feature presentations and discussions from a team of six well-known specialist speakers with divergent views on a variety of aspects.

It will take place on Wednesday, 24th September 2025 at the Royal Philatelic Society, London (15 Abchurch Lane, London, EC4N 7BW). Attendance is free and light refreshments will be served. Space is limited, however, so you are advised to email srtcrr@gmail.com to reserve your seat. Further details will be announced later.

The Stuart Rossiter Trust Fund is a Charitable Trust supporting research and publication relating to the history of communication through postal systems of the world.

To date, the Trust has published 52 books on Postal History, and funded 29 research projects. It has also hosted 25 annual Lectures.

NEW: Digi-Perf-Reader from UPA VIP/DPR

What is DPR? - a DPR is a DIGITAL PERFORATION READER, but a DPR is not a physical object, because it's a web-app on your Mobile Phone, enabled by the DPR card we'll mail/airmail you when you REGISTER.

Imagine a world where the intricate details of stamp perforations are no longer a mystery, where collectors and dealers alike can utilise technology on their mobile phone to identify scarce, even rare perforations with the touch of a button. This is not a distant dream but a reality we have been painstakingly crafting toward for the past six years. We are thrilled to finally introduce the world's first Philatelic automatic Digital Perforation Reader (DPR), powered by cutting-edge Facial Recognition Technology (FRT) on your mobile smartphone.

Our mission is simple yet revolutionary: to provide an affordable, global philatelic resource that is universally accessible. Whether you are a seasoned collector or a curious beginner, our DPR technology is designed to make perforation measurement easy, accurate, and environmentally friendly. For just £1 (US$1.30, €1.20), you can embark on this journey with us, gaining access to a 30-day free trial of unlimited digital perforation reader usage, plus save your results on your own device.

Join us as we work to transform the way perforation is measured and understood. With your support, DPR 'default' is for personal private philatelic use only, but we aim to build a comprehensive library of images and data, facilitating global philatelic research and collaboration which you can elect to join and share as we grow DPR membership internationally on-line. Let's not just collect stamps; let's explore, learn, and innovate together, a catalyst to a brighter philatelic future:

Engaging with 'Collectors' from the Third Estate

Some personal thoughts

On my return from a very enjoyable "Annual Weekend" with the France & Colonies Philatelic Society near Stratford-upon-Avon, my wife (that is the appellation she insists on) greeted me with "Did you have fun?" and "How many did you kill?" She is not exactly into stamp collecting, but she is fascinated by my choice of light reading – the "Keller" books by Lawrence Block, in which a professional assassin intersperses his deadly work with a passion for collecting stamps. The author is a serious collector, indeed he has written a regular column for Linn's Stamp news, and the philatelic detail in the five books is very engaging. But to my wife the association of my going away for a day or two with 'stamps' as cover for reducing the world's population is intriguing.

Two weeks later I went to the two-day Kempton Park Stamp Fair, another very enjoyable experience, but only after giving a guarantee that I did not have a secondary lethal motive.

One aspect of both events was that there was plenty of time for chatting with old and new friends about some of the wider issues that are challenging philately. I need not dwell on these as they have been well covered for years in this newsletter and other places: ageing philatelists, lack of younger members, closure of stamp clubs and shops, fewer people using stamps for the purposes for which they were intended etc.

So informally I asked several others what our hobby is, and how we should describe ourselves. This often proved quite humorous. Are a group of philatelists "a pinnacle" as they strive to reach excellence, and a group of stamp collectors "an album" as they seek to expand their collections? Is it "a pinnacle" because the achievement of gold medal collections, which require extensive research, includes the ownership of unique material, and ascent over time of a pyramid from local to regional to national, and finally the pinnacle of international recognition? Is it an "album" because competition is not necessarily excluded but the pursuit of ever more material, written up for enjoyment, embracing ever more themes or topics, as a more dominant characteristic? There was no agreement on this of course, but a broad understanding that there are important differences, and these affect the nature of stamp communities that will attract, or put off, new members.

One topic that interested others was my recent experience in utilising eBay to reach stamp collectors who probably do not belong to stamp clubs, or display their treasures, or even attend local or national fairs? Does eBay reach (to hark back to the French Revolution) a 'third estate' of stamp collectors, who operate below the radar of the first estate of national societies and Stampex exhibitors, and the second estate of club members and attendees of local fairs? I thought that there might be. So they challenged me to write (briefly) about it.

Four years ago I was asked to meet with a lady who wished to dispose of her late father's collection. This was housed in several WH Smith spiral bound albums, and SG cover albums. It comprised a world-wide collection of used stamps circa 1970-1990, together with quite a large number of Royal Mail issued First Day covers. Apart from being grouped by country in the albums, the stamps were not written up, were not in any form of chronological or topical grouping, and some were damaged or poorly hinged. She had contacted one or two dealers who were in her words 'not particularly interested' as most of the stamps were of 'common usage', postally used, and included many Asian, East European, and South American countries that were not particularly sought after. They also explained that there was a glut of GB covers on the market. The remarks were fair and little money was offered. She therefore wondered if we might enter the collection at our next club auction? However, we were just recovering from the Covid shut-downs, only small numbers of people were returning to our auctions the display in the albums did not indicate the likelihood of finding many 'hidden gems', and it was unlikely to attract many bidders.

As we talked through the options the owner made it very clear that she did not want any money for the collection. Her priority was that the collection her beloved father had built up over many years, and especially when he was seriously ill, should go to other collectors. In a sense so that his collection should live on, and the enjoyment of the stamps would be passed on to others. The one thing she did not want was for some items to be sold if possible but the majority to probably eventually be regarded as rubbish.

We agreed that I would try and honour this commitment, and I embarked on the disposal of the collection to collectors who would prize the stamps and covers, with the proviso that if there were any funds generated these would be donated to the Alzheimer's Society. So over the last four years I slowly donated some elements of the collection to KidsActive and other charities, offered small selections at local auctions, but broke the bulk down into very small lots and offered these on eBay.

As a result over 600 lots eventually sold on eBay with an average realisation of about £2.00. Taking into account postage and fees (eBay still charged fees for most of this period) there was a small surplus which went to the Alzheimer's Society as requested. These offers of small, low-priced lots, with the stamps described, scanned and off paper, was to facilitate the commitment to rehome as much of the collection as possible with other collectors. The simpler bundling of countries still on album leaves would have taken much less time and probably produced a similar revenue, but risked the cherry picking of a few stamps and then disposal of the rest more likely.

The success of these lots through eBay was quite a revelation. Firstly, they all sold, although it did take four years! Secondly, the feedback (when it was offered) was very positive, and in the phrases used showed that in many cases the stamps were very much appreciated by the new owners. Perhaps more importantly, as the sales slowly proceeded, I noted that the buyers were spread all over the country. In the final analysis there were buyers from every county in the UK, from every region in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, and even some (despite the listings specifying UK only) from Canada, the USA and Europe who somehow managed to make bids. I looked up many of the UK addresses on maps and whilst there were a number of London districts, the majority were from small communities, and often at some distance from larger towns. I also noted that in several cases the payee differed from the bidder in terms of title and gender, surmising that together with the phrasing of the feedback from some of these, the actual buyer was probably a younger person.

So why did my friends suggest I wrote about this? Apart from the ability to reassure my wife that I had talked about stamps and not practiced the Assassin's Creed with them, they were amazed at the spread of active stamp collectors across the country as revealed by the bids received; the likely presence of a significant younger population amongst them; the variety of interests shown by bids for the stamps of every country and topic offered; the probability that many of them did not belong to clubs or attend many stamp fairs because of their geographic location; and the unsolicited feedback from strangers who took the brief opportunity to 'talk about their stamp collecting'.

This initiative reinforced my belief that there is a large and active 'third estate' of stamp collectors in the United Kingdom and that digital connection is the key to creating collecting communities to supplement the local stamp clubs and stamp shops that are now struggling. My own society, like many others, is therefore investing more in Zoom meetings, on-line forums, and postings on social media. We are also seeking to increase our face-to-face outreach through a club presence at national and regional fairs, and to supplement our former regional meetings where travel and suitable space is an issue with very local gatherings, in coffee shops or pubs as well as in parish rooms etc. Next March we will be holding our 50th Annual Members Weekend in Stratford-upon-Avon and I hope that once I have reassured my wife that I am going away to talk about stamps – and not as a contract killer – that our chatting will be about how these activities are engaging with more of this 'third estate' of collectors and, although our primary interest is French and Colonies stamps, we will not need to replay the French Revolution.

Roger Niven

A surprising and very pleasant email.

Imagine my surprise when I discovered the report from Taw and Torridge on page 42 ABPS News (Summer 2023) - thanks to Google! It related to a box of letters that belonged to Mr Gilbert Corelli Fenton in Borneo (1920s until 1948) I have Mr Fenton's medals and 50 years of his diaries. He was a remarkable individual who was a Marconi operator on merchant ships during WWI before being commissioned into the Royal Flying Corps. His career as PMG in Jesselton, British North Borneo was cut short when he was forced to take early retirement in 1948 as one of his staff had stolen a large amount of stamps and poor old Gilbert had to take the flak as he should have known!!!!!! Happily he and his wife Hylda retired to Jersey and lived happily until Hylda died in 1974.

DOOM AND GLOOM, OR BLUE SKIES AND SUNSHINE

DOOM AND GLOOM - "We can't get new members", "I offered my collection to my grandkids and they didn't want it" and "young people are just not interested". Comments, or words to that effect, that I've heard several times and which I suspect other readers have heard and maybe have even said.

All a bit doom and gloomy, much like the picture on my parent's first TV, which weighed a ton, took up a whole corner of the living room, and showed a grainy, black and white picture that went fuzzy whenever the wind blew, or it rained too hard. Is this the TV you'd watch now, or buy for your grandchildren?

I suspect that most people's answers to both those questions is an emphatic "No" and that instead they watch a sleek, thin, wall-mounted, colour TV with a picture quality their parents could only dream of.

The world of TV has changed and we've happily moved with it, so why then are we surprised when our offspring are not interested in taking over our stamp collections which are in the same format that our parents collected stamps, or that we can't attract new members when our societies are substantially unchanged since their formation.

To engage our offspring and new members we need to make our hobby and societies more relevant to their (our) world, by adopting and embracing the various digital technologies, such as Artificial Intelligence, Facebook, YouTube, Podcasts, Google etc all of which can enhance the enjoyment and exercise of our hobby, as could membership of online communities such as Stampworld.

For example, it took less than 30 seconds using artificial intelligence, to create the picture on the front cover, showing different generations enjoying philately with the technology available through the ages, from a physical album and magnifying glass, to managing an album online, to scanning a stamp with digital facial recognition technology to count the perforations.

Similarly, identifying a stamp is so much easier and cheaper, searching for a match using the images section of Google search, rather than having to look through a catalogue.

This is not the first time we've had to adapt our hobby and societies. With the advent of the internet we developed websites and when the pandemic hit, we moved to online Zoom meetings, but to stay relevant in a changing world we need to continue to change with it. A challenge, but one that with the support of organisations like ABPS, we're perfectly capable of conquering. BLUE SKIES AND SUNSHINE. David Smith

David's positivity is inspiring to me and I hope to others. It counters the feeling from some that there is nothing that we can do about falling numbers of members and the lack of volunteers to take on the roles in societies. Perhaps some roles should change. Perhaps we need to think of raising membership fees from the price of 3 cups of coffee for a year of meetings. Perhaps we can be more friendly? My society has gained 3 members this year - Great! LAST FEW OPPORTUNITIES AT MIDPEX 2025

Warwickshire Event Centre,
Leamington Spa, CV31 1XN
5th July 2025 10:00am – 4pm

There are only a few spaces remaining for dealers and societies to sign up for MIDPEX, sponsored by Cavendish Philatelic Auctions Ltd. This is a great opportunity for both dealers and collectors to enjoy a quality philatelic event.

Organiser, Steve Harrison, commented "Dealers are always enthusiastic about the show with 35 dealers already booked and at least 20 Specialist Societies taking part. Dealers and Societies should book promptly if they wish to secure tables as further opportunities are limited."

MIDPEX is the biennial exhibition first held in 1995 and attended by stamp collectors from across the UK. It brings together Specialist Societies with local, national and international dealers covering all aspects of Philately. The spacious venue is the same with extensive free parking and a free shuttle bus from Leamington Spa railway station.

It provides an opportunity for Specialist Societies to show off their sphere of interest to other collectors, to recruit members and identify common ground with members of other societies. It also provides an opportunity for societies to promote their publications and research projects and for members to meet informally, particularly those members who find it difficult to get to meetings in London. The event in 2025 has again expanded with space for ephemera and post card dealers as well as stamps, thematics and postal history.

For more information and booking forms please contact Steven Harrison by email: sharrison500@btinternet.com

Further details and booking forms can be found on the Midpex website at: <https://sites.google.com/site/midpex>

Additional details of the venue with views of the hall and site location including parking, can be accessed on <https://www.warwickshireeventcentre.co.uk>

The scrapped 19p stamp.

Philatelists pay penalty of Euro loss

IT WAS to have been the pinnacle of Roy of the Rovers' glittering career. The Melchester Rovers striker would have been the star of a set of stamps to commemorate England winning the Euro 96 championship.

But Gareth Southgate's penalty miss in the semi-final against Germany meant not only England's exit, but also the scrapping of the stamps.

Because no living person other than a member of the Royal Family can appear on a stamp, the honour befell Roy Race of Melchester Rovers, a comic-strip hero for more than 30 years, to capture the occasion.

The first stamp was to have shown Roy called up for the tournament. Another would have depicted him scoring Alan Shearer's goal against Switzerland. However, he may yet appear if England win the World Cup next year.

Ascension Island - Letterbox Walks.

Keith Lillywhite

The Idea of Letterboxes goes back to the 17th Century when outward-bound ships would leave messages on the Island for the next ship to take home.

Today there are some 22 or more Letterbox Walks around the Island and at the end of each walk a Box can be found containing a log book and a rubber stamp to prove that someone was at the letterbox.

Sister's Peak is one of the most recently active volcanic peaks (500 to 700 years ago) of the island and dominates the skyline. The current series of boxes began being set-up by Sean Newbery, the BBC Resident Engineer and keen walker.

A path was cut to the top in 1972 when it was opened as the Hannay Pass but is also famed as being the first 'letter box' walk along with Letterbox to have been established on the Island.

Magnet Insurance partners with the ABPS

Magnet Insurance are delighted to announce our partnership with The Association of British Philatelic Societies.

Many of you will already know that Magnet Insurance acquired the Stamp Insurance Services business in 2023 from Barry Horne, following his retirement. Our aim is to support the philatelic community by providing relevant, competitive insurance products to cover the wide and varied risks across the philatelic sector.

This new partnership harnesses the collective buying power of the ABPS membership.

For policies with an effective date from 1st January 2025, ABPS members, whether existing or new Magnet customers, will receive a 10% ABPS member premium discount.

We will also be providing useful information and content within the insurance section of the ABPS website, to keep members up-to-date with insurance matters relating to philately.

How do you receive your 10% member discount?

For New Enquiries

When you contact us for a quote, let us know you are an ABPS member, we will check the ABPS member directory and apply your 10% discount.

For Current ABPS clients

For those members who are already Magnet customers, we will apply the 10% ABPS member discount automatically for renewals due on or after the 1st January 2025 and the ABPS logo on our letter will indicate that the discount has been applied.

For Stamp Societies, Clubs, Federations and Associations, we offer products covering various options, including:

- Circulating Packets
- Material held at Packet Secretary's home
- Auction Stock
- Club Contents
- Contents at Exhibitions, events
- Public Liability
- Employers Liability to cover volunteers
- Money and Personal Assault

For further details or a quote, please:

visit our website: www.stampinsurance.co.uk/clubs-societies/

or phone us on 01636 858249, during normal office hours (9am to 5.30pm Monday to Friday)

This is the latest added benefit coming from being affiliated to ABPS. Make sure that you have paid your affiliation fee before you pay your insurance bill. Editor

Channel Islands SS

Twelve entries were submitted in February, covering four competition classes: Occupation Postal History and Markings; Postal History; Stamps and Postcards. Entries came from the UK, the Channel Islands and New Zealand. The entries were judged by Graham Winters and Patrick Reid prior to the event, with Graham Winters attending the Royal on the day to provide feedback on each entry. Two members won gold for their entries, Richard Flemming for Jersey Ship Letter Mail and Nick Stuart for Commemorative Stamps for the 3rd

In September 1974 he became Packet Superintendent, which he held until June 1995, then becoming Auction Secretary. In June 1999, David took on editing our Journal, a post which he held until December 2023. He became the third president of the society, after founders Bill Newport and John Simpson. David wrote many of the standard reference books on Channel Islands philately, including Channel Islands Sub-Post Offices and their Postmarks (1983), Red Cross Postal

Message Scheme with the Channel Islands during the Occupation 1940 – 45 (1992), The Post Offices of the Smaller Channel Islands (1993), The Postal History of the Guernsey Sub-Post Offices (1995), The Postal History of the

Jersey Sub-Post Offices (1995) and Letter Forwarding Agents of Great Britain handling Channel Islands letters 1673 – 1855 (2011). He celebrated his 90th birthday in April. → <https://www.ciss.uk/> Steve Wells

Cyprus Study Circle

We have submitted our most recent version of our memory stick that contains all the publication issues by CSC since their beginning in 1972. The stick holds everything fully indexed and in an interactive format. At our Zoom meeting in March there was a very interactive discussion about Postmarks as defined in Study Paper No 8. The Rural Cancellations were of particular interest and Rob Wheeler showed some very rare examples. The means of defining which postmarks belonged to what postal route was also demonstrated. The new study on Advertising Cancels by Chris Georgallis also generated a lot of interest as it is now possible to define what they say and when and where they were actually used. The June Zoom meeting will be looking at Stamp Flaws – all are welcome to join in. The log-in details are on the CSC website. Jim Wigmore

Mark Bailey on Expo 58

Our first 2025 London meeting was on 22nd February 2025 at the Dean Swift pub near Tower Bridge – Mark Bailey gave a rich and varied display on Expo 58, the 1958 Brussels World's Fair, including stamp issues, cinderellas, and other philatelic items. The logo for the event was by Lucien De Roeck and featured a five-pointed asymmetrical star. An additional design promoted the idea of 'building the world for mankind', and both were used to create publicity labels – Mark had blocks and sheets of these, together with examples of their use. One of the iconic features of the Fair was the 'Atomium', a giant model of an iron crystal that visitors could enter and explore using the tunnels and escalators that connected each part of the structure. This landmark naturally featured on many of the stamp issues and First Day Covers. Czechoslovakia was the third country to issue stamps for Expo 58: a set of five issued on 25th March 1958, promoting the national products on show, just before the opening of the Fair, and a later stamp with an illustration of the Czechoslovak pavilion. Decorative Bohemian glassware won a Grand Prix, commemorated on a special label. Many countries produced commemorative matchbox labels – including Czechoslovakia – as well as special cigar bands! There was a wealth of supplementary material on display – such as a leaflet advertising loaves of bread with coupons incorporated into the packaging, which could be redeemed for entry tickets. → www.cpsgb.org.uk

Harald Krieg in front of the first two frames of his display

13 members of the Study Circle met on 22nd February for the first meeting of 2025 at the home of the RPSL. After a members' bourse and conversations during the usual tea and coffee in the members' lounge we held our first auction of the year which could also be participated in via Zoom. With 143 of the 150 lots selling this was another quite successful result! The display of the day was British East Africa by our chairman Harald Krieg, FRPSL starting with the German Post Office in Lamu, followed by British East Africa stamps and their usage, the revenue stamps, railway telegraph stamps and finally the postal stationery. All in all, the material was shown in 12 frames. We hold three meetings a year in London interspersed by three online meetings via Zoom. Interested guests are welcome to attend. ➔ www.easc.org.uk

Falkland Islands

Over forty members of FIPSG and partners returned to Bradford on Avon in March for their annual weekend convention. As always, this was a busy three days of displays and talks, learning and levity with a lot of input from the attending members. We were saddened to record the death at Christmas of our president, Mike Roberts, an internationally acknowledged expert on Falkland Islands philately and mentor to many in the group. His expertise and friendship will be sorely missed. A bottle of Mike's favourite whisky was auctioned by Roger Mazillius, with the proceeds going towards a proposed memorial award.

Major displays were given by Nigel Kaye (World War II), Malcolm Barton (Designs and Designers of FI Stamps), Stefan Heijtz (Freight in the Falklands, including the only known instance of a lawnmower being posted via FIGAS), John Spencer (Dependencies Map Stamps) and James Grist, reviewing auction history and how auctions actually function, including a mock auction of some recently discovered historical items. Two sessions of members' displays encompassed most aspects of Falklands philately. Subjects included: Inwards Mail from Tristan, Air

Lot 1 from the Grist Auction

Letter Forms, Stained Glass, The First QEII Set, PSNC Cards, Madame Joseph Forgeries, Whaling in South Georgia, Rainer Goldsmith and The Trans-Antarctic Expedition, Cork Cancellations on Cover and others too numerous to mention. Thanks went to Morva White and the committee for delivering another great weekend.

France and Colonies

Before Christmas three members gave presentations to the Leeds Philatelic Society: John Morton on the Spanish Roads with mail from the 15th to 17th Centuries, Michael Meadowcroft on The Transition from the 2nd to 3rd Republics and Alan Goude on French Territories in WWII. Then In February Mick Bister gave an enthralling Zoom display, including video material, on Colonial Exhibitions of France from 1894 to 1931 to members from the UK, Australia, France and the USA (now available for members to view on our website). In March we had our annual weekend near Stratford-on-Avon; attended by 18 members together with five guests. During the two days we were entertained by 19 full displays, with postal history, stamps, postcards and supporting ephemera; including Martinique and The Imperial Eagles of Reunion, Early French Mail to Italy, Monaco, The 15c Blue Sage, 3 Fr Petain, 20 Fr Marianne de Muller Stamps, International and Insured Mail 1875-1925, Precursor and Pneumatic Mail. In addition on the two evenings we were treated to 12 informal Show and Tell – Anything Goes! displays where postal history, stamps, philatelic, 'back-of-book', topical, social, thematic, and open material proved of great interest. Full details will be published in the August edition of our Journal. Zoom meetings and local face-to-face meetings are now being planned for the rest of the year.

A big thank you to Rex Dixon for being such a masterly editor! If you require more, there's the society's 'X' (Twitter) account @GermanPhilately which promotes German stamp collecting and social history. Join the society now by visiting our website at www.germanphilately.org, and to all members reading this - remember the AGM later this year. There will be plenty to do and see, as well as good company amongst fellow philatelists. See the website or Germania for details. We would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate member Carl Buck on his recent presentation in Munich. Pending an article in Germania and presentation at the AGM, suffice to say that sixty letters originally sent from the Royal family in Bavaria have been returned to the Geheimes Hausarchiv (Secret House Archive) which forms part of the Bavarian Main State Archive. The letters, written between 1936-1940, were handed to Dr Gerhard Immler, director of the State Archive, where they'll be stored for safe keeping and further research. We look forward to hearing more at the AGM! See you there.

Great Britain PS North East Group

In late March an enthusiastic group converged on Stockton for our biannual meeting. The main speakers were Steve Perola, who gave a substantial lecture about The Development of Mail Services via Great North Road, and Peter Chadwick, organiser and MC for the day, who rekindled our interest in the humble Penny Red by showing the Guy Bridges collection. After an excellent buffet lunch several members offered short displays. These included John Sussex showing Scottish Islands: Jura, Rhum, Eigg and lesser known Gigha, which had a mail service from 1824. Graham Winters showed a range of World War II Material, talking about forgeries, and the use of artists held in prison camps to produce them. We also saw a ship card marked 'repatriation suspended', background unknown. The WWII theme was continued by Daphne McMillan's selection of Mail Rejected by the Censors, and Forces Registered Mail. Robert McMillan presented his comprehensive study of Hull Ship Letters and Keith Burton showed Registered Covers from GB to All Corners of the World, including the Falkland Islands, Tonga and British Guiana. Time allowed Graham to show all the GB rates to Ceylon between 1830 and 1900. Peter Chadwick completed the afternoon by showing the late Phil Harriman's deeply researched Northallerton Collection, including many earliest known strikes. Our thanks go to Peter for organising the event and to Vana and Dawn who provided continuous tea and coffee. Did I mention the cream cakes? There were lots.

Malaya

This time. I write about the renaissance of our group under the leadership of our chairman Dominic Morris CBE Why? Covid, Railways closed for modernisation at weekends, and membership in UK growing old have made substantial changes to attendance at meetings. If you are interested in philately of Southeast Asia pay us a visit. You would be most welcome. What are you going to get out of this? You will find unrivalled knowledge of the philately of Malaya from early times until the present with displays and discussion and help given to the novice. If you become a member, you will find not only part of the website open to non-members but an opening to Zoom meetings listened to all over the world by paid-up members, and have the opportunity to take part in MSG Auctions which are an amazing way of amassing the desired philatelic material at lower costs than commercial ones. The next is on 18th October. All 65 volumes of our journal The Malayan Philatelist, published since 1959, are now on our paid-up members' website at present, a more complicated task than most would imagine. Our recent meetings were Incoming, Transit Mail and Paquebots Malaya and our first 2025 Auction. They are held at Spink Auction House 67-69 Southampton Row, London WC1B 4ET. Special EuroPhilEx membership offer

We offered 16 months membership for the price of 12 in a special offer to mark EuroPhilEx in May, and took a table to set out our wares, including our bi-monthly journal and leaflets detailing our activities. Benefits include a free bi-monthly journal, The Stamp Lover, bi-monthly Saturday London meetings, at the RPSL premises, feature outside speakers, as well as 500-lot room and postal auctions. The society also holds virtual meetings, also with outside speakers. The NPS also sponsored the Court of Honour at this major international exhibition. The membership offer is still available until 30th June. The cost is £14 (UK members) and £12 (overseas), if they take Stamp Lover and the auction catalogues by email. By post the costs are £19 and £30 respectively. We have reported a financial surplus for 2024, helped by increased revenue from bi-monthly room and postal auctions, and commission from our packet circuits. February's virtual meeting featured Janet and Nick Nelson presenting

Eric Hutton displays a modern cover sent from Tel Aviv to Mauritius but was redirected thousands of miles before being marked "undeliverable"

Brazil, from Bullseyes until the 1940s, while the March London meeting was Eric Hutton showing Mauritius. Although some classics were included, the emphasis was on modern material, where there are a surprising number of errors and varieties. The virtual display on Monday 9th June will feature Alan Moorcroft presenting The German Occupation of the Channel Islands. The London meeting on Saturday 12th July is the AGM. Postal History

Our Library is now searchable by author, title or category. With nearly 2400 books available to members, our webmaster Mark Bailey has added a plug-in to the website that has allowed him to add a search box to the Library pages. It searches just the library books that we have detailed on the website. This has been configured so that the word(s) entered into the search box will search in the names of the authors, the titles, and the categories. The matching results are then shown in a scrollable list below the search box, to focus attention on the items that match with the search term. At the April Zoom display secretary Marc Oxley showed The Legacy of British Slavery using Prestamp Entires which was timed to coincide with a similar themed exhibition at the Postal Museum London. Michael Waugh produced Pre-stamp Mail from the Straits Settlements. If you would like to give a display, please email secretary@postalhistory.org.uk with the details (a title and length of the display). We will be taking a stand at Midpex at Leamington Spa on the 5th July; where we hope to see as many of you as possible. Our annual meeting with the RPSL (North) is taking place at the Marriott Hotel in York on the 17th July. This year it is being arranged by the Royal, contact Yvonne Wheatley whyareuu@outlook.com for more details. See our website for more details → www.postalhistory.org.uk Marc Oxley living in the South West Region. The items on display filled 54 frames, including much that was scarce and unusual. By means of an incredible display and presentation, Daphne McMillan inspired members at a meeting on 20th February with a look at the life, reign and family of King George VI. Through a mixture of photographs, postcards, letters, stamps and covers, the story was told of this much-loved King, christened Albert, who came to the throne in 1936 following the abdication of his brother, King Edward VIII. From mail carried by balloon to the time of the Spanish Civil War, Eduardo Consejo guided members through Airmail Related to Spain 1870-1936 by means of a display and presentation on 20th March. The evolution of airmail relating to Spain was told through pieces flown to and from the country, but also flown from and to territories with a clear connection to Spain. Eduardo has no fewer than 37 items of Ballon Monté mail during the Siege of Paris. We were treated to several 'firsts' at the display and presentation given by Stefan Heijtz on The Postal History of the Faroe Islands 1751-1945 in April. We saw the earliest known example of mail from the islands, the earliest known letter into the islands from Denmark and the earliest known Registered letter sent from Copenhagen.

We held our annual weekend 28th - 30th March at the Holiday Inn, Bromsgrove. It was attended by 17 members and 7 guests and featured 21 displays from throughout Scandinavia. The displays began with a superb presidential display of Danish Local Stamps by our Norwegian president Per-Erik Knudsen. His display featured the towns of Aalborg, Randers, Aarhus, Horsens and Viborg and included much rarely seen material. During the two days, there were members' displays featuring Greenland, Iceland, Faroe Islands, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland. Absolutely Montserrat Peter Tribe enjoyed chatting about stamps and sharing knowledge on postal history. John Black travelled from Petersfield bringing Montserrat and St Christopher treasures. From Harrogate Keith Burton (Editor of the ABPS News), shared two covers, one with 1946 GVI Peace and Reconstruction 2½d stamps x 14 to Miss Bessie Harper, of blessed memory.

Michael Musgrave took us through some more obscure, and mostly uncatalogued, Aspects of Australian Philately. After a large interpanneau block of King George V, his first major section showed how Australia handled postage due after PD stamps ceased, notably cards sent to the sender to collect the due sum and the postal markings on detained covers before and after payment. Next came reprint "Koala" and "Kangaroo" markings. A large selection of personalised stamps was followed by a wide range of covers and labels used for premium and economy services. Postage labels were introduced in Australia circa 1960 and numerous types were shown, including the later types sharing design features with definitive stamps and some used for special events or stamp shortages. At a members' evening Ian McElwain opened with highlights of a recently-purchased collection of St Lucia, with gaps to fill, followed by a variety of Preserved Railway Covers. Charlie Mead started the second half with (mostly) Western Samoa Postal History, including Paquebot material, airmail, parachute mail and first flight covers. Len Stanway closed with the Singapore new issues of 2024. In March we held a Philatelic Brains Trust. Charlie Mead opened with a presentation on how to establish a digital library for all your reference material using a free software solution known as Calibre, but many of the things discussed will carry over to other digital storage and access solutions. After the break, he continued with a PowerPoint presentation and short display on Fiji Free Franks.

Our January meeting was to be the president's afternoon, but we had arranged a visit by the Mayor of Bolton, Councillor Andy Morgan, the Mayoress Karen Holdsworth and the curator of the Egyptology Department in Bolton Museum Ian Trumble. The Mayor had spoken on the local radio about having served in the armed forces. When he came out he had the idea of running a local post office. However that never happened. The members were asked to bring as much material covering local postal history including covers and postcards. David Brigden brought a small selection of Egypt Hotel Post from the early 1900s. Bolton Museum has a world-famous Egyptian Department. We think our guests were very surprised with our displays and each member had time to talk about what they had brought. I think the Mayor's party thought it may have been a room full of people swapping stamps etc. We now think that the Museum may allow us to put up an exhibition in one of their rooms at some point. Before they left the Mayor was presented with a society cheque for £100 for his nominated charity Bolton Hospice. Our February meeting was our auction night attended by 25 people and lots of postal bids, our next auction is in June a list will be available. March and we had to re-jig our meeting. Jack Lindley stepped in and gave a talk and display on New Zealand Second issue Pictorial Stamps and WWII Mail.

In November we had a fun, and meaningful, thematic display from Peter Wood with his presentation of It's an Irish World. We learnt all sorts of interesting and wonderful facts relating or loosely relating to Ireland and its people. The Christmas meeting was attended by 45 members. They enjoyed a wonderful buffet supplied by Harrington's Bakeries along with a glass of wine. We also had a quiz and a raffle with the star prize being a superb hamper. The Roy Gilbert Cup held in September was presented to Steve Paice. In January we had a one-sheet competition amongst our members. It was a close-run contest but the winner was Denis Littlewort (pictured left in group photo) with his King George V Key Plates showing the Nyasaland 4-shilling assassination flaw. In the second half we had a fascinating and enthralling presentation from member Robert Prentice on Captain Robert Scott's British Scientific Expedition to Antarctica. February brought us an interesting display from Philip Cant on The Titanic from Cradle to Grave and Beyond, which was essentially a pure stamp display. Alan Hall was our March speaker with a comprehensive display of mint stamps and covers embracing the post Turkish Empire, The League of Nation Mandates to France & GB after WWI and the WWII, Syria French issues. We meet every 4th Tuesday of the month (except for December) at the Old Barn Hall, Great Bookham in the afternoon - www.bookhamstampclub.com

There have been nine meetings since Christmas. Members provided a number of evenings of their own entertainment which included Any subject starting with the letter of your Name, a competition evening, a bourse and an auction. Speakers included John Biddicombe – Interesting Aspects of New Zealand, including stamp fixing machines and coils, Philip Shipp on Newspaper Philately including special stamps by various British companies, and Dr Ken Flint on Cyprus from 7000BC to Modern Times and the 2c Refugee Tax being applied to postage. The visit from Thornbury Philatelic Society included a presentation on Lundy Postage by Carlton Jones followed by Martin Elliott on Fire Engine Stamps and Covers. Additionally, a visit was made to Thornbury Philatelic Society where two members presented an evening on QANTAS, de Havilland and Holland America Line. The nine-page competition had seven trophies for grabs with four competitors sharing the spoils. They included Ron Gillard, Neil Jones, Philip Shipp and Ian Spencer. The overall winner was Neil Jones on The New Zealand 1d Dominion – a big thank you to Carlton Jones from Thornbury Philatelic Society for rigorously marking the entries. Separately a one-page competition was won by Ron Gillard on Czechoslovakia's early Mucha stamps. Voting was by members present. Two new members round off this quarter. Another nine dates scheduled to the end of the 2024/2025 season.

As I write this report we are now winding down at the end of our season and putting together a syllabus for the next one which will start on 4th September. We had the pleasure of a visit from Rochdale PS in early March with displays on France by Eddie Dunn and New Zealand by Jack Lindley. Richard Farman visited mid-March with some Interesting Old Letters relating to the English Civil War and aftermath. Our latest meeting was a competition night and the winning entry will be forwarded for a NWFed Inter Society competition. We had six entrants and Mark Everiss was our winner with his Russian Civil War exhibit. Trophies were presented as usual. Arrangements are now in hand for our AGM and a summer evening event at a local hostelry. We can now look forward to the upcoming EuroPhilEx 2025, Stafford and York Fairs and Midpex and a relaxing summer.

The February Zoom meeting saw Richard Moss from Spalding give a display on Aspects of the New Hebrides. This was a well researched and very interesting display. In early February we held the first of our two competition evenings. The Great Britain entry of Registered Mail from Mike Brindle achieved the highest mark in that section, and the Postal History entry of Edinburgh Dotted Circles from Tony Crowther won for this latter section. Geoffrey Datson's entry for Gilbert & Sullivan took the Open Class. For the March Zoom meeting Paul Redhead gave us a fascinating and detailed Study of Nigerian Forgeries, with many examples showing what was wrong or missing. We will continue with the format of a face to face meeting in Cambridge, at Oddfellows Hall, on the first Wednesday each month and also a Zoom presentation on the third Friday each month.

Our first meeting on 11th February following our winter break was a members' display covering Anything Philatelic with six presenting a wide range of topics. On 25th February Pat Adams gave a display of her favourite subject Norway, whilst on 11th March Colin Evans returned with a wide range of material covering The Letter H. Another visitor returned on 25th March when Len Stanway gave an excellent presentation on The United Nations. Finally another returner, Ray How, entertained us on 8th April with a presentation entitled Samples From My Collection, which covered a wide variety of mostly Irish related topics. ➔ Dave Everard on davideverard@live.com or 01245 465506 Dave Everard

In January we were greeted with a cornucopia of philatelic material. It was the members' opportunities to display items using the heading of Anniversaries. Martha Brown showed various examples of First Flight Covers including an airmail cover from 1939 flown in an Atlantic Clipper airplane. Hers showed four beautiful orange 6c stamps. Other covers were from Düsseldorf, New York and London. Anthony Parker displayed items that were commemorative of the first adhesive stamps, covers from the PO Savings Bank (1961), a Shakespeare First Day cover from 1964, the Battle of Britain series from 1965, and the celebration of Robbie Burns stamps from 1966. Frank Griffiths centred on the commemoration of Sir Winston Churchill. This display included a signed letter, covers, and first day covers. Russell Hill provided a nice surprise by way of a photo of his school teacher who encouraged pupils to collect stamps. He displayed various first day covers of the SRN6 Hovercraft, Concorde, and the 50th Anniversary of Doctor Who. Stepping up to the crease, Bob Tebbitt, our own cricketing expert, showed a set of St Kitts & Nevis stamps, and the Warner Park grounds in Basseterre. There was a most interesting stamp from Hanoi, Viet Nam showing a military airfield. Also, he showed a poster for the 1988 bicentennial of Australian settlement in Welsh! Arddangosfeydd da! In our competitions the various trophies went to Russell Hill (both Viner and Simmons), Neil Smith (Symes). Martha Brown

Our speaker on 7th January was Nigel Chandler who presented a display of the Allied Occupation of Germany, Part 2. Nigel covered the period 1945-1948. The postal rates did not change but the value of the stamps was less because of currency devaluations. A number of covers were displayed including those with an orange triangle denoting cash on delivery. In August 1948 a new issue of stamps took place which funded the repair of Cologne Cathedral. On 1st September 1948 was the final issue of the Building Series comprising 28 stamps, four watermark and many perforation varieties. In February two members, Terry Page and Chris Hitchen, displayed. Terry Page took us to the Zemstvo Posts of Russia which functioned between 1865 and 1918. Zemstvos were local authorities which accepted and delivered mail within the many rural areas which were not covered by the state Imperial Post. They operated in tandem with the state system. Chris Hitchen displayed material from the Franco Prussian War of 1870-71. Paris was surrounded in September 1870. Balloons were used to take letters out of the capital. One letter was from the ill-fated balloon the Jacquard which took off on a stormy November night and eventually crashed off the Scilly Isles. Salvaged mail eventually found its way back to France. David Walker's display in March showed many birds – from Buzzards to Vultures. David had a wealth of knowledge to accompany his display. Graham Harker

The subject for the meeting on 12th March was Outposts of Empire which produced some excellent displays of The Extent of the French Empire, How Canada was prior to the Formation of Canada as a Country, Some Very Long-Distance Communication to Cyprus emphasizing the length of time it took to exchange letters prior to today's speedy means of communication. There were also some minor displays showing the extent of overprinting of some countries, and the reasons for the production of some stamps from Sudan. At our 31st March meeting Mick Carter showed an excellent display entitled M.E.F. 1942 - 1952. Mick began by explaining that he has been interested in Italian colonies with MEF overprints since 2013. These were overprints on GB stamps issued from 1942 and printed in Cairo and Nairobi for use in the captured Italian colonies in North Africa and the Horn of Africa. He showed the varieties occurring in the overprints, notably in the full stop variations. Also examples of postmarks from various post offices, forgeries, plus many covers, Christmas airgraphs, telegrams, airmail covers and POW covers to Germany. Mick's display notably included some scarce covers and cds postmarks.

February, James Podger described his Merchant Navy experiences in the South Atlantic as a tanker captain anchored near Ascension, providing fuel for UK and US flights out of Wideawake Airfield. His display comprised many early postcards showing views of Ascension, the Falkland Islands and St Helena and some RAF memorabilia. The following month, Mark Bailey spoke about The Centenary of the Postage Stamp – 1940. He explained the evolution of the familiar GB GVI issue and how this anniversary was marked overseas. On 19th March, seven members from Guildford headed over to Epsom and Ewell Philatelic Society for an exchange visit. The four GDPS presenters were: Charles Smith (Belgian Exhibition Stamps - Art Deco), Barry Stephens (Australia: The First Fleet then Gold Coast/Ghana), Simon Burke (Penny

January was a bad month for us with ice and snow, then high winds, forcing the abandonment of our meetings. However we recovered in February with three members giving excellent displays. Alan Green took us through the history of Switzerland's Pro Patria Cards and Stamps. Later Maria Gibson reminded us of the Solidarność Movement through the covers, cards and stamps produced, mainly illegally, to raise funds and show support, and Ian Bergel continued through Eastern Europe with Bosnia, Austrian Charity Stamps and Hungary from the 1930s. Our Zoom meeting on When We were Young produced six related or unrelated displays. We saw Airgraphs with Disney characters sent by Airman Kirman to his daughter, A youthful trip to Germany, Celebration Telegrams and

Cards, Asterix the Gaul and Comic Stamps and the Birthday Boy from 22nd October with the 2nd most collected country, Egypt, as a follow-on. Why not break the rules if you want to! We had a visit from four members of Middlesbrough. As usual this results in a very varied evening. Derek Lilley showed us Foreign Tourist Cachets and Japanese Occupation of China material. Neil Williams followed with an outstanding George VI Registration Mail to and from Aden. GVI Covers were Barry Burns' choice but this time from St Helena. John Church finished off with a fine mixed selection relating to World War I – particularly the Ottoman Empire and the two German ships that sheltered in Istanbul and changed the course of the war. Keith Burton

2025 has started well. Our January meeting challenged members to display five sheets (exactly) or pay a 50p fine. No less than 15 displays were produced on a huge range of topics, and we had time to see them all. Our annual auction meeting raised little in commission for us, but the charity section raised £150 for the local Hospice, the best figure for several years. In March, our last afternoon meeting of the season, Richard Moss entertained us with his comprehensive display of Postal History of the New Hebrides. Richard's visit was a wonderful example of the interconnectedness of British philately. He contacted me through a Zoom meeting my husband and I had given, and in conversation, I invited him to present to Hereford. After consultation with diary and map he realised that our March meeting could be taken in as a relatively small diversion on his journey from Lincolnshire to a philatelic event in South West England, and also give him the opportunity to see a little of a previously unvisited city. Cancellation by our intended speaker for April necessitated finding an easy topic for members' displays. Combining the Wedding Season with April Fools Day, I suggested Something Old, Something New, Something Foolish, Something Blue! This proved tremendously popular and David Bruce-

Kingmill who had joined the society only a month before, entered wholeheartedly into the theme, including a "Foolish" letter bearing a Post Office slogan postmark "It's quicker to Phone!"

Our eight paid-up members emerged from the winter break on 27th February to a super presentation of unusual KGVI/KGVI Material and Barbados by Terry Brookes from Milton Keynes PS. Richard Akers represented Pinner PS on 13th March, displaying Swiss Material. Our treasurer, Tim Harrison, made a return visit to a very well-attended Solihull PS on 18th March, displaying Stamps and Postal History of Estonia First Republic (1919-1940). A club return visit to Milton Keynes PS was made on 26th March, also by Tim Harrison, who displayed Greek Revenues and Pre-Union Stamps of South Africa. A big thank you to Milton Keynes PS for making him so welcome. Forthcoming visits to High Wycombe are from David Belton, Huw Williams and Norton Wragg, before we rush to the beaches for the summer.

In February Robert McMillan presented Kingston upon Hull Postal History. He began with examples of post from the time of King Charles II through to the early 1840s. Early letters were before postmasters and contained many abbreviations including bishop marks. Robert explained how most mail from Hull was transported by horseback to York and thence on mail-coach to London. He presented examples of markings from Hull and also postmarks from various places coming into Hull. From 1840, there were examples of Rowland Hill's Mulready sheet, including one from the second day of issue, and also examples of caricatures of the Mulready. The second lay-down had a focus on ship letters. Of course, Hull is sited at the confluence of the Hull and the Humber and obtained a royal charter in 1299. The display contained an amusing mistake, with one letter from Leeds to Hull originally marked as a 'ship letter'! In March Rodney Knight presented on Spain and the Spanish Colonies. The focus of the first round was Spain itself and included frames on a thematic collection of Spain, celebrating civilisation in Spain from the Palaeolithic through to C20 art and architecture, pre-stamp covers, Spanish railway postmarks, the Province of Valencia, post-1950, especially covers celebrating trade fairs, advertising covers 1900-1946, postal stationery, including aerograms, and charity stamps. The second round was on the Spanish colonies, including Cuba,

The first half of our season has brought displays illustrating many facets of collecting from Postal History to Thematics, from ephemera to postcards and everything in between. To open the season we held a members' afternoon which was very successful, as everyone brought something to show. We have learnt about the fascinating History of Photography from Geoffrey Blackwell and been entertained by Steve Harrison's lively presentation and beautifully illustrated collection of Congress Material from 1909 Onwards. Garrie Naden's innovative and very visual display on Early Postal Routes was well appreciated by the members, integrating the postal history with geography in an approachable way for the non-specialists. An unexpected change to the programme saw Daphne McMillan's second world war display having its second outing in two days when a speaker failed to appear. (Luckily the frame format of the two societies was identical). In March, Trevor Wright guided us through a comprehensive History of the Harrogate, Leeds and Bradford Posts, featuring in particular material relating to the solicitors Powell, Eddison, Freeman and Wills of Harrogate and Knaresborough from the early 19th century. This slice of social history included material from the collection of Cliff Hopes. Colin Marshall's Royalty display was well enjoyed, particularly by this viewer. John Walker's presentation of the Korean War and its Aftermath was a detailed and fully explained account of an often forgotten conflict.

At our meeting in January we were shown philatelic items from the United Nations part 3 having previously seen parts 1 and 2. This was the final part of a collection of United Nations philatelic collection by a past member of Cambridge PS, donated to the society. Stamps from various countries commemorating the UN included Honduras, Germany, Cuba, Luxembourg, Liban, Italy and Syria. From 1922 Switzerland issued stamps for use of the International organizations situated there and examples were shown. Mail showing slogan cancellations on mail came next. We then saw the 1970 issue which came out on the 22nd September along with details of the designers of the stamps. On the 7th April 1972 they issued stamps for World Health Day and we were shown them in blocks of four. These were followed by the Economics Commission and Art series sets. In 1975 they commemorated the 30th anniversary of the UN charter and peace keeping relations. The 1980 stamps commemorating 35th Anniversary of the UN were shown as blocks of four. 1600 000 of each value were printed. Examples on mail carried slogan cancellations. During the issues of the 1961-62 stamps the emblem was replaced by an outline of the UN building. In 1961 an official photograph of the UN Children's Fund and Economic Commission for Latin America stamps was released to the press as were the issues for 1962. The evening ended with examples of commercial postage and meter franking.

Members have enjoyed Zoom presentations on Transatlantic Airmail 1928-39, Pigeons in Communications WWI, India to Scotland Mail 1817-39, Cameroons WWII Censored Mail, Imperial Airways Africa Service 2 and Norfolk Social History. Mike Kentzer and Terry Wagg entertained members at the first monthly meeting with Postal History Pot Pourri and The Life of the GB ½d. The Five Frames by Four evening started with Stuart Ross – British Central Africa and Nyasaland, introducing the history of the region. Next Terry Harrison – Free Czechoslovak Forces in WWII, detailing how the Czechoslovak Forces came to be in England 1940-44. Then Philip Illsley – Queen Victoria Jubilee and Seahorses, an interesting selection of stamps, covers, postcards and ephemera. Finally David Rice – Local Postcards, a whistle stop tour of King's Lynn. Valentine's Day was a members' evening without a valentine in sight! Quality presentations on Picture Postcards of Sandsend, Sir Nigel Gresley's W1 Engine, Postal History of North Borneo 1881-1894, Ships of Lake Malawi, Personalities having the privilege of Free Frank Mail, Antigua and Local Ephemera were appreciated. At the last meeting in February Dahlia Harrison entertained members with Aspects of France. Next was a visit from Norfolk and Norwich PS with amazing displays on Germany and Postal Regeneration from March 1945-51, Africa, The Netherlands 1945-2000 and Scotland Regional Stamps 1958-70. Continuing our 2025 session was a visit from Bob Forrest on Scouts. Starting with a biographical sketch of Lord Baden-Powell his first round concentrated on the commemoration of various jamborees. Then he showed how widespread the Scout movement is with a large range of stamps showing scouting activities from many countries. Our first meeting in March was Competition Night. The number of entries was down on previous years but we had a good range of topics from Indian stamps used in Zanzibar, South African Aerial Post to George VI Definitives. The traditional Alec Hopkins trophy was won by David Rossall with Bela Sekula and Nyassa. Ian Smith took the Thematic shield with Argentina's Claims to the Falkland Islands and also the 3-Sheet competition with Marconi and the Titanic. The only entry in the Postcard class, David Rossall's Early Pro Juventute Cards, was judged to be of sufficient standard to take the trophy. Our second March meeting was a visit from Alex Walker of Aberdeen. He brought A Counterblaste to Tobacco, named after a document written by James VI/I. Alex took us through the history of tobacco from when Jean Nicot brought tobacco to France for use as snuff, its use in pipe smoking and cigars to cigarettes in the 20th century and chewing, especially in the USA and Sweden. We followed early methods of promotion and advertising to more recent groundswell against its use, especially after the death of George VI from lung cancer. → davidrossall@sky.com David Rossall

The February meeting was exceptionally well-attended with 25 members and guests present. The chairman Barry Mudie introduced the speaker for the evening, Bob Wheeler from Totnes. Bob had previously displayed to us last year which was well appreciated. This display entitled the Four Kings was equally as good with a plethora of unusual items such as proofs, artist drawings, colour trials, printer's waste and paper trials. Among the items shown were essays of a 1923 airmail stamp, 1924 Wembley Exhibition stamps, 1929 Universal Postal Union stamps and the 1935 and 1937 Jubilee and Coronation stamps. Other unusual items included pencil drawings of proposed Edward VIII high value stamps and essays for a stamp for use throughout the British Commonwealth. There was also an example where colour trials were used to test how the various colours of existing stamps would appear with the introduction of electric light into the post offices. Alas this only describes a small part of the material which was on display. At the end of the presentation the chairman presented Bob with our certificate of appreciation. Des Kent

Our Spring programme has been most enjoyable and varied, something to interest everyone. On 28th January we had a talk about Mail Coaches from Canon Roger Dedman beginning from 1784. Our first meeting in February saw many members submitting displays for our competition evening. It is always a delight to see other members' interests. On 25th February Mike Rego gave a display of British Guiana Stamps and Postal History. We had a lively auction on 11th March which was organised by our member auctioneer Nigel Grizzard. On the 25th Rod Ash showed his Railway Postcards and Ephemera. Richard Hindle introduced us to Hubert Wilkins – An Extraordinary Life on April 8th. We look forward to three more meetings this season. Our 136th season begins on September 9th. Our annual Stamp Fair will be held in Pudsey Civic Hall November 15th & 16th, 10-30am to 5pm both days, all welcome.

For the first meeting of 2025, David Britton took on a huge challenge – telling the story of Wars and the Men and Women who fought them. He began with some British Indian Ocean Territory issues commemorating a wide range of British battles, from the Battle of Hastings to Naseby, the decisive battle of the Civil War. A rich variety of material was then used to illustrate the Williamite Wars, the Battle of Culloden, the Seven Years' War, and the Battle of Trafalgar. The second part of his presentation focused on the stamps and presentation packs issued to commemorate WWI – this section was embellished with a replica of Princess Mary's Christmas Gift Box for the troops in 1914 (the curious list of contents included tobacco, cigarettes, and a pipe, but no chocolate!). A huge range of material was then displayed to illustrate aspects of WWII from the point of view of different participants – Greece, Germany, Japan, Great Britain and the US. Some of the more unusual items included:

David Britton with Tony Bosworth

Japanese postcards celebrating their 'victory' at Pearl Harbor, the fall of Hong Kong, and Singapore; stamps issued for propaganda purposes for the Indian National Army; fake Austrian Hitler-head stamps overprinted Österreich wieder frei!; and South African Christmas seals issued for each year of the war. In conclusion, Chairman Tony Bosworth reflected that taking on over 1000 years of warfare to have impacted the UK had been a brave effort, which members found thoroughly enjoyable. → hickey_anthony@hotmail.com

At our January meeting our joint treasurers David B and Robin H explained to the members the reason for our having to change banks because of rising banking charges. David B then handed out the full banking report and statement of our funds. David B then entertained everyone with two short talks Stamps of the Isle of Man followed by Pillar Boxes of the UK. Finally our secretary handed out the new 2025 syllabus listing the next half year's events. In February Robin H ran our first stamp auction in many years. Members were invited to go around and view all displays. Then as each members number came up they had the opportunity to buy one item for just £2. All of the items on display had a sale value of at least £4 to £6 making the sales very reasonable. This was repeated until all bids had ended. The general mood of the members was this new idea should be repeated later in the year. Alan Totten with his talk Norway: Ships, Trains and Planes was our visiting speaker in March with over 70 delightful items in his collection. Among them a photographic postcard of Queen Maud, addressed to Hull, posted onboard ship, The Hull Paquebot postmark Hosking 100, dated 4.30am, 27th November 1905 and Bergen to Hull Cover postmark 3rd April 1876, franked with a pair of 3 skilling stamps for ship letter rate. David Morley

Our 2024-25 season meetings are now almost over, and despite steadily falling numbers we have seen many interesting displays from both our members and the Borders society who visited us last November. Next season's Tuesday evening programme has 14 meetings starting on the 23rd December through to April 2026. Sadly, one of our longest standing members, Jim Haggart died in April. Jim had been an active member and office holder of both Edinburgh and Scottish societies which preceded us. On a brighter note, in January we were pleased to welcome the Lothian Stamp

Group (formerly Edinburgh Stamp Group) as an associated group within LPG. This group retains some autonomy and continues to plan and run daytime meetings on the last Friday morning of most months. A longstanding and particularly active member, Bob Catto who has devoted many years service to our predecessor club as well as LPG was made an Honorary Member recently. His displays are always good and this season we had a most entertaining display entitled Bob's Birthday with worldwide material, including covers and cancels all produced on his birthday.

2025 started with Your Latest Acquisitions and Oversea Mail in January. February saw presentations by our president and vice president on British Levant before and after WWI, followed by Queen Elizabeth II and we rounded off the first quarter with a Cinderella evening and Transport on Stamps in March. On the membership side of things, we ran a membership survey at the end of January and about half our members responded. This gave some interesting results, such as half of those who replied had engineering-related careers, about half our members rarely visit our website and of the half that do visit, the information most relevant to them is about meetings (past, present and future). As a result of the survey, we are looking at re-focusing parts of the website to make it more appealing and relevant to visitors (i.e. potential new members) and the officers of the society are currently considering a list of potential changes to the website. In addition we've agreed to look into setting up a Facebook page for the society.

Thank you David and Maidenhead and District PS. This is the first report that I have received from there since I became editor, many years ago. It is clear that David is a doer in philately - much appreciated.

Since the beginning of the year we have enjoyed displays by members and guests. We started with members showing 12 sheets from their collection with the usual variety. This was followed by our secretary/programme secretary Margaret Emerson showing us the Development of the Post with an interesting talk about her covers and postcards. Our first 2025 guest was Kevin Dillistone with an unusual but fascinating display on Lighthouses of Great Britain. The display consisted mainly of postcards along with the few stamps that have been produced showing lighthouses. Kevin showed a postcard of Dungeness Lighthouse and a single stamp that was issued by Chile, for some unknown reason. Phil Clark followed with a remarkable display on the League of Nations and Paul Cahill gave an interesting display on Early France. Our latest speaker was member Julie Lester who gave a remarkable display on Lundy Island which started with a description of her latest visit there ending up with Appledore Lifeboat (Devon) having to come and collect her following a fall whilst out walking. A late change to our programme resulted in the committee asking our president, Marcus Sherwood Jenkins if he would like to give us a display of his superb Russian Material as a tribute to his wife who recently died. Our morning meetings have included members' displays including one by Tony Davis on the Red Cross which included a range of stamps and covers. Brian Stonestreet

Val Beeken from Durham is well-known for her diverse range of thematic collections. On her previous visit to us we were enthralled with her display of Bananas when all attendees were treated to a fine mint example in superb condition. At our second March meeting she displayed Law and Order and we wondered what delights she would bring. No free handouts this time but a very wide range of stamps, covers, photographs, postcards, newspaper extracts, and other ephemera were on show. Robert Peel opened the talk, and we were privileged to see her fine Parliamentary Mulready Letter sheet used and signed by Sir Robert. This was followed by a good range of material relating to the Metropolitan Police before moving through the UK. We were surprised by the range of material that Val had located, helped probably by knowledge gained from her previous employment within the force. Following the break Val moved overseas with examples from most continents and many diverse countries. Dog handling, drugs, several famous crimes and prison mail were represented, followed by a selection of Court Fees and Judicial stamps. Comic postcards concluded a fascinating display which is well recommended to other societies. Thank you, Val, for an instructive and entertaining evening.

A Springtime Medley: During February, our member Peter Watts presented a comprehensive display of Romania and Turkey. Four members followed up in late February - Terry Blyth with Great Britain KGV Issues, David McIntosh with Netherlands, Reg Cullum showed Birds and John Moseley illustrated Nobel Prize Winners. A members' only competition for the Gordon Rooney cup was well-contested (winner to be revealed later). Our second March meeting saw us welcome Ray Barton, offering an authoritative Mexico display. Our April Spring Fair at one of the Hewett School halls was well attended and seemingly enjoyed by all.

Our fourth season as the united clubs of Eltham, Bexley & Sidcup opened on 14th January with a range of members' short displays. What a diverse range of collectors we are. 28th January was our AGM and presentation of our annual competition winner's cup to Geoff Hanney. Jeff Hanney handed the presidential role to Phil Clarke. In February Bill Hedley enthralled us with his Postal History of Hungary in his inimitable style, covering all aspect of their military, social, political, public health and all aspects relating to the country's evolution. Later in February Keith Jupp showed his Jamaican

Post in Victorian Times, displaying the variety of postmarks utilized. On 11th March we welcomed Michael Dobbs with his Aspects of NATO, relating how it was set up in 1949 by 12 countries, as a buffer against the soviets, since expanding to over 30 members. He explained the structure of commands within NATO and how things altered when in 1962 France withdrew. Then in 1999 the number of HQs was rationalised from 65 to 20 and we noted each of these had their own post offices for British, American & Canadian forces. In April we were delighted to welcome Robert Mott with his display of German Private Postal Stationery from its inception in 1875. Once again we were awed by the range of items and the depth of his knowledge. We now look forward to the rest of 2025, with a rich and varied programme.

In January, Stan Challis displayed a wonderful selection of material covering Ireland – 1916 and all that. The following month saw members display a range of material on Flags, Heraldry and Shields from around the world. At the next meeting, the quiz challenged members with a limited time to answer blocks of four questions on cards – in the end the winning margin was just half-a-point! At the same meeting, we were grateful for the friendly advice offered to our visiting judge, Malcolm Gascoyne, from nearby Henley PS who scored the displays in various classes of competitions and showed how to make improvements in material and write-ups. March saw two members split a meeting between them with apposite material: Steve Hewitt on Heroes and Villains of Norway – Nansen, Amundsen, Ibsen, Munch and Quisling, to name a few – and Colin Davies on Mechanisation and Sorting of the Mail in GB, 1957-72, which delved into graphites and phosphors across a range of stamps, booklets and coils. At the next meeting, as always, the auction provoked a very large turnout of members and lots of bidding. In the expert auctioneering hands of Gordon Bishop, most of the 320 lots found new homes in just over an hour, helped by most lots helpfully starting at a pound!

Our competitions for 2025 are over for another year. We had 14 exhibits, the most we've seen for many years. (Are things on the up?) More details can be seen at <http://www.philatellyinbournemouth.co.uk/>. The judge was Albert Jackson. All exhibits were superb but there were two 'stars of the show'. Bill Pipe was one with his exhibit of British & Colonial Hospital Ship Marks of WWII, (Postal History) for which Bill received a Gold Ribbon certificate with the trophy. Another Gold was won by Gareth Williams who produced Newfoundland Transatlantic Flights in 1919, (Open). Gareth also won the Members' Choice shield. We have a packed programme for the rest of the year including a Stamp Fair on Saturday 6th September. (Save the date, details on the website and in the ABPS News Diary page 60).

Our meetings resumed in March after a Winter break. The first meeting was a members' contribution on New Acquisitions. We had some unusual items, including A Range of Postal History from Neil and Vesta Power. Recent meetings have included a talk by our chairman, Ian Williams, on his Victorian items and an interesting display on Postage Due items. We were intrigued by the variety of reasons for extra charge and the processes for collecting the charge. Andrew Brooks visited us with another selection of material from his extensive Germany Collection. This time it was mainly postal history from the Third Reich. It was a thoughtful and thought-provoking display.

In thanking speaker Hugh Osborne for his display of South Georgia Postal History, our president Colin Mount stated that members had experienced a superb presentation underscored by most excellent write-up. This philatelic study was an absolute gem on many levels, not least its clarity of delivery, and the promotion of scarce and unique material. Hugh prefaced his philatelic journey with a most informative outline of the island's history. The developing whaling industry in the 19th and early years of the 20th century was centre stage, with Great Britain, Norway and later Germany being key nations. Vast numbers of whales were killed in the pursuit of this valuable oil resource. Numerous whaling stations were established, with later, ships playing the major part. The Falklands, Argentina and Uruguay featured strongly in this industrial development, and their postal facilities were vital to communication. Post took an age to be delivered, whether inward or outbound, and for 8 months of the year, weather conditions prevented movement. The wealth of correspondence displayed, both commercial and private, was considerable. Maps and photos, were to the fore, and stamps, cancels, letters and covers abounded. Many items were rare and of much value. Talking of such scarcity, Hugh revealed a South Shetland cover. Find another one ... but that is another story! Paul Barry

Rochdale

At our February meeting, member David Hudson presented A History of GB Postage Due Stamps from 1914 to 2000, when their use ceased. David discussed the complex rules and regulations covering the many factors relating to postage due and postage return charges. These included weight, size, delivery attempts and return-to-sender costs. Postcards had onerous rules to distinguish them from normal letters, such as the number of words and subject matter. Specific regulations were introduced to prevent postcards masquerading as letters to avoid higher post charges. David said that he gets pleasure from his detective work, trying to work out why charges have been made and under what circumstances they are applied. Pete Best gave a talk primarily on Armed Forces Covers from Malta in the period of WWI and WWII. Most post, including civilian had to run the gauntlet of censorship, particularly armed services personnel, prisoners of war, hospitals and convalescent facilities for war casualties. Pete displayed many samples of covers showing a fascinating variety of official censorship hand stamps under the headings of: Opened under Martial Law, Passed by censor (number) and Damaged by Immersion in Saltwater. Our April meeting was dedicated to members' displays on subjects beginning with the letters G/H/I. The results included George V stamps in Malta, Hungarian Stamps, from 1910/1918 and Irish Diamond Postmarks. Peter Grimshaw

Our membership has remained steady this season and we have had very good displays both by members and visitors. Gerald Marriner started the displays with a knowledgeable and fascinating display of the German Occupation of the Channel Islands. John Walker, gave us a very different display 3-Dimensional Philately – Collecting Stamp Boxes. 'They were beautiful items, many in sparkling silver. Visitor Alan Spencer gave us the interesting story of The Canadian Expeditionary Force in WWI. Brave men all. In March, Malcolm Hughs and Michael Chapling showed Early Russian 1858-1872 and Equestrian Sports on Stamps respectively. Both generated plenty of interest from members. Members displayed Picture Postcards – picture side only giving us a wide range of places and subjects. Again, the Members' Nine Sheet Display gave us sheets from round the world and from early to more recent stamps and covers. Margaret Langley

Another interesting and enjoyable quarter. We suffer, like I suspect many local societies, from low attendance at our meetings, we average nine or ten. But the atmosphere and the friendships are always excellent with a good buzz. We have had four members' meetings and the displays on a wide range of themes have been as always interesting and eclectic. I continue to be surprised at the range of members' interests. In the winter months our specialist talks are given by a member with the second half given over to members on any subject. We auctioned our unused library and had our annual auction. Both achieved good results, in the case of library surprisingly so. Our day meeting, to which we invite philatelists from around the area, was as usual a resounding success with 21 attendees and 11 displays. Another success was a visit by a team from Ferndown who showed high quality material. While our members always show excellent material, over the years we get to know their collecting habits. These were fresh subjects. We have major problems ahead in the next quarter: the secretary retires and currently there is no volunteer to replace him. Mike Moody

Our Competition night was in February. The One Country Cup was won by president, Peter Arnett, showing The 1881 Penny Lilac in all its guises. John Penrose offered Faroe Islands and Ted Lunn brought beautiful Newfoundland Issues. For the Anything Philatelic Trophy Peter had a good evening taking first place with Anything showing the Head of Queen Victoria. Chris Phillips followed with Burma and Robin Stenhouse produced The Life of Robert Fitzroy, Captain of The Beagle. There were many other displays so in all it was a good competition night.

The first three meetings with the deliberately vague titles of Afternoon with the 50s, Surcharges and Overprints and SE Asia generated some very creative members' displays. The 50s covered everything from Postal History from the 1850s, the Different Printings in the 1950s of the GB QE2 High Value Issues and world stamps all showing a 50-currency Value. Overprints, both genuine and forged, on Stamps from the UK and Germany, sat alongside scarce Boer War Postal Stationery and Local Handstamps and Cachets from the Victorian Era. A message of care when purchasing overprinted material was taken on board; particularly important when buying on-line where forgeries are rampant. On 26th February Sutton Coldfield PS joined us with in-depth displays of Korea, Prisoner of War Mail from John Walker, the complexities of the Slavery Trade from Margaret Langley, Sport on Stamps by Michael Chapling, and finally three unexpected Uses of Registered Mail from Steven Harrison. A non-philatelic guest was intrigued to hear how the addressee can be brought to life by internet searches and the correspondence put into a real-life context - there is much more to philately than coloured bits of paper or grubby envelopes! Telford PS recently found our first membership account book and kindly returned it to us - what fascinating reading it makes. Meeting locations, subscription costs of 5/- from the 4th June 1947 and the members including a Lt. Col., a Major, a Doctor and a Reverend! - good material for a display.

At our meeting on 4th March the audience were entertained by Robert Shaw, the secretary of nearby Birmingham Society. Robert brought along part of his outstanding collection of Paraguay, the first time in Solihull's 55 year history that philatelic material from this landlocked South American country has been shown. It was therefore no surprise there was an above average turnout of 27 members and guests. Robert shared his extensive knowledge of the history of Paraguay from Spanish colonisation in the 16th century, its independence in 1811 to the wars with its neighbours. One of the highlights of the display were some rare pre-stamp covers including an 1812 entire with a straight line PARAGVAY handstamp in red. Between 1864–70 Paraguay was involved in the War of the Triple Alliance when it fought against Argentina, Brazil, and Uruguay, which resulted in Paraguay conceding some 30% of its territory. Robert showed some rare material from this war.

We started our 2025 speaker's programme in February with an excellent talk by Bob Small of Ferndown and West Moors Society. Bob first displayed his covers about The French Prisoners Of War Held in Britain during the Napoleonic wars interspersed with interesting ephemera and a riveting story of events. His second half was an even more dramatic talk and display about The Life of Admiral Lord Nelson. Our second speaker in March was Mike Moody of Salisbury Society showing us his colourful display of Silks from the First and Second World Wars with a powerful story about soldiers at war and the significance to their families at home of the themes of the silk topics chosen. Of course, our Zoom programme continued with an attractive and interesting display of Supermarket Philately shown by Jean Alexander in January and Parachuting Through the Ages by Barry Stagg in February. We hosted a Tri-Club meeting On 3rd April. We met as usual at Painswick for a sandwich lunch and a variety of short presentations. Austin Meares showed Stamps and Postcards from Chateaux of the Loire. Tim Kestin brought maps, stamps and covers of short-lived and slowly diminishing Biafra. John Button displayed some Penny Blacks on Cover, even one with a Stroud postmark. Mike Parker produced a couple of frames featuring Alexandre Dumas Père, explaining his mixed-race ancestry. Tom Yerburch showed Canadian Stamps, illustrating how the reigning monarch had aged over the period. Martin Slinger's display included the discoverer of an anti-rabies vaccine, an anecdote about Painswick Post Office, once Britain's oldest but now closed, and the big con in Trinidad and Tobago's independence set: its bottom value featuring the sea by an artist who'd never been to the coast and fish native to Japan. Andrew Watton rounded off the meeting on Postal Mechanisation. In the 1960s when Ernest Marples was PMG, the phrase AI was in use for promoting technological novelties like inkjet printers and Computer Based Training. Although there was a large number of speakers, the meeting was not over long, and the great variety meant there was something for everyone. This has proved a popular model. The word Tri-Club refers to our practice of having meetings with Gloucestershire and Cheltenham societies every six months, each society taking a turn to play host. We are close neighbours geographically, and the meetings always prove popular.

Peter Harris, our outgoing programme secretary, has managed to attract some of the biggest names from UK philately to present to us. That said we also have a wealth of in-house and local talent to entertain and inform us. In January we were treated to presentations from club members. David Elliott displayed a relatively small collection entitled German Hyperinflation. David explained the collection was triggered when given a single stamp by a tour leader on a visit to Germany as a 13-year-old. Over many years of painstaking hunting and considerable investment David's collection has become the masterpiece it is today gaining the accolade 'Best Presented Display' at the Annual Convention: Germany & Colonies Philatelic Society - October 2024. Jeremy Phillips showed us: 1st Issue Commonwealth QEII 1953/60. Jeremy has collected stamps for years but, like many working people his acquisitions tended to get put to one side 'to deal with later.' Having reduced his work commitments in 2024 he agreed to present to the club. Jeremy admitted it was only when he started to prepare his presentation, he realized just how much of a task he'd set himself. Many readers will empathize with Jeremy's admission that he found he not only had many duplicates but also gaps! He was accepting deliveries up to Christmas Eve to compile a presentation with which he was happy. His dedicated hard work certainly paid off as we were treated to an extensive and comprehensive show.

The members were entertained by our president in December. Phil Andrews showed us more of his Postmarks from Hong Kong Post Offices, this time concentrating on Kowloon, Hong Kong Island and the New Territories. It was good to see that Phil had managed to find some of the ones he was missing previously! Our January meeting was a second annual members' postcard evening, though some members had exhausted their postcard collections so showed whatever they fancied! Steve Birch gave us a display of Preserved Railways; Wayne Cox put up some postcards showing Letter Boxes; Arthur Howell showed some David Hockney Artwork; Martyn Ayto displayed some Unusual Bits of Post & Go and Phil Andrews treated us to some Postcards of Hitchin, where he grew up. ➔ 01923 218433 Wayne Cox

Our 2025 season of informal meetings continues. February brought a series of members' displays on W, X, Y and Z - Charles Squire brought his Wales Collection, Jonathan Taylor showed WWI Knockaloe Internment Camp, a WWI internment camp on the Isle of Man, at Knockaloe Farm in the parish of Patrick, near Peel, which housed 23 000 prisoners-of-war and 3000 guards between 1914 and 1919, showing examples of free post mail used by prisoners. Brian Wilkinson showed us with Xmas Yemen and Zaire, Ken Moody showed Zanzibar 1890-1977 and Adrian Lee covered Zante, one of the United States of Ionian Islands. March brought Dave Druett out of hibernation to show us his Trinidad collection which was covered in depth with examples of inter-island hand stamps, Perkins Bacon line-engraved, explaining that the narrow sheet margins prevented later perforation and the humid conditions activated gum causing shortages of stock resulting in Charles Petit lithographed issues, followed by the 1858 requirement for mail to be prepaid and examples of the hand perforations. The display moved on to the DLR contract issues and the o/printed surcharged one penny issues brought about by Trinidad joining the UPU in 1879. with examples of manuscript red ink, DLR surface-printed examples, 1882 Revenues FEE o/print post due and postal stationery. Dave also showed examples of WWII censored mail from South America passing through the censors stationed in Trinidad and Bermuda - a treat for all. Adrian Lee

We have held four meetings so far in 2025, with an average of 20 members attending each. In January members showed off their Latest Acquisitions, followed in February by competition night where eleven members displayed four sheets on A Subject beginning with D, won by Tony Ward. In March we held our AGM followed by a lively auction. In April our member Mike Lewis showed his fascinating and very interesting Stockton & Darlington and Early Railways display, timed to coincide with the bicentenary of steam train travel. The Stockton and Darlington Railway was the first passenger railway to use steam trains to transport freight and passengers, operating across north east England from 1825 to 1863. Their first line, opened on 27th September 1825, connected coal mines at Shildon in County Durham to Darlington. Mike's exhibit included covers and correspondence from the founders and principals (including George Stephenson), tickets, flyers, maps, photographs, prints, posters and rare cancellations. Again, I'm afraid that there seems to be very little Federation activity to report. At our last AGM it was agreed that the best thing the Federation could do at the present time was have a good website that supported the hobby in our area, and was able to provide a “signpost”, either to individual clubs’ websites, or to the people who lead and manage the federation’s other member clubs. Now, our website is very old, and very basic, and not particularly attractive, but we decided that it would, at least, work (or serve its purpose) if we had comprehensive, accurate, pertinent and up-to-date information on it. [We thought it better not to spend money on the things associated with building and hosting a trendy new website.] So the call went out, and there have been some responses, although one couldn’t call it “overwhelming”. This is therefore a plea for Wessex club secretaries to send me or our webmaster the kind of information you want us to put out there. It also makes me wonder whether other federations are experiencing similar issues, with what appears to be a lack of interest, or maybe commitment, or whether it is something that Wessex is just doing wrong. If anyone has ideas or views or comments, please let me know. Dave Cleaver

The Crawford Festival & Medal Shortlist 2025

The Royal Philatelic Society London received more than thirty nominations for the Crawford Medal for books published during the years 2023 and 2024. The Society is pleased to announce the short list of six from which the Crawford Medal Committee will select the 2025 winner.

The winner will be announced at the end of the Crawford Festival on 25th June 2025.

The shortlisted books are:

Tété Béche: rarities from the Oval-Issue of Finland by Tomas Bjäringer & Mårten Sundberg.

Italia e Iberia: la posta fra gli stati delle due penisole 1814 – 1876= Italy and Iberia: the mail between the states of the two peninsulas by Lorenzo Carra.

The postal stationery of Nigeria by Peter Hørlyck.

New York City Foreign Mail 1845 - 1878 (2 Volumes) by N.M Kirke.

Dominica: philately to 1967 by Simon Richards.

The Rhodesias and Nyasaland from Colonial rule to majority rule: the evolution of the mails by Brian Trotter, Pat Flanagan & Keith Harrop.

The Crawford Medal is a silver-gilt medal awarded for the most valuable and original contribution to the study and knowledge of philately published in book form during the relevant period. This Medal is open to world-wide competition and has been awarded by the Society on over 90 occasions since the first award in 1920.

The medal will be awarded at the end of the Crawford Festival which will take place on 24th and 25th June 2025 at 15 Abchurch Lane, London EC4N 7BW.

This year's event is kindly sponsored by David Feldman International Auctioneers and the theme will be Archives in Philatelic Research

The Stuart Rossiter Trust presents a new book:

During the Second Anglo-Boer war, guarding Boer Prisoners at the Cape became a security problem and the decision was taken to build Prison Camps on St Helena. This book incorporates much new information retrieved by the authors from the St Helena Government Archives about the period when the Boer Prisoners of War were housed on the island. Their further extensive research has given a fuller picture of the Camps, the prisoners, the British Forces guarding them and the postal activities during the period, including identification of the postal censors and details of the incoming and outgoing mails. Well-illustrated with postal history items, censor marks, and contemporary photos of the era. 250 pages

- Macao 2026: 26th June – 1st July 2026. FIP Recognition Full details at: www.macao2026.org.mo Specialised FIP Exhibition, no Championship Class UK Commissioner: Jack Zhang Entry deadline: 18th November 2025

UK handling charges are now standardised for all international exhibitions at £30 per frame for shows in Europe or £35 for events anywhere else in the world, whether single or multiple frame exhibits or per literary entry. This is to cover the cost of getting exhibits to and from exhibitions, FIP capitation fees and other costs relating to processing the exhibits. Overall this runs at a loss. Exhibits that are carried to and returned from an exhibition by the exhibitor are charged at half price. There is no UK handling charge for Youth exhibits. If you are interested in becoming a United Kingdom international exhibition commissioner please contact Jon Aitchison at britishlocals@aol.com

Details of FEPA exhibitions are at <http://www.fepanews.com/>

How you could get a good cancel in Denmark in early 2024 - use the slip to show how you wanted it cancelled - but the latest news is that Denmark is giving up stamps and using codes. Here we have stamps but can't always buy or use them! Pictures from Des Kent
